

Reception Class Newsletter

Our book this week has been the wonderful 'You Choose' by Pippa Goodhart and Nick Sharratt. Our imaginations have again produced some fantastic work in drawing club. We can't wait for you to see what the children have been doing. They will be bringing all of their books home when we finish in July. We are sure you are going to be truly amazed.

Transition

In the coming weeks we will be welcoming next year's reception cohort for their induction visits. I know the children will do a fantastic job of welcoming them.

We will in turn begin to think about our transition to year 1. Once the staffing structure is announced, we will invite the year 1 staff to visit the children and begin getting to know them. We will also begin to visit the year 1 Classroom ahead of our longer induction visit on 29th June. Before our visit we will come up with a list of questions for the year 1 team that can be answered during the afternoon. In the coming weeks we shall modify our timetable slightly to join in with some of the routines of the rest of the school, such as observing the same break time.

Dates Ahead:

Thursday 25th June - 9am Reception Class assembly. Invitation sent out today.

25th June- Reception visit to Wesley Place (details to follow soon, this will be after the assembly)

Tuesday 14th July - Pirate Party Day (details to follow nearer the time).

Super stars

Well done to Elsie and Sammy our two stars of the week

Congratulations!

Holidays

If you are taking holidays or days out in the coming weeks. We would love it if you were able to pop a picture onto Seesaw so we can talk about where you have been. This helps to support our knowledge and understanding of the world.

Runway Visitor Park

Hopefully you have seen the photos and recount of our fantastic trip on Tuesday. We really did have a brilliant day. This was then followed up by a visit from Dean Parker, a Ryan Air pilot, who came to visit us on Wednesday. The children thought of some brilliant questions to ask him, armed with the knowledge they had gathered from the day before. Their questions were brilliant. Before he left one of the children gave him a picture of a person to take away which he offered to take on his next flight. Sure enough, yesterday he sent us a photograph of the picture in the flight desk on its way to Marrakesh!

Have a wonderful weekend from the EYFS team
