Headteacher's Notes

Dear parents and carers,

As we step into March, it's hard to believe how quickly the Spring term is moving! It's been another busy and productive week filled with energy, progress, and lots of moments to celebrate!

On Wednesday, some of our Year 3 and 4 children took part in an athletics event at Sutton Manor Primary School. Staff reported that the children showed excellent attitudes throughout and were a real credit to the school.

Yesterday, school was buzzing with vibrant creativity as we celebrated our very own version of World Book Day. The day was thoughtfully organised by Mrs Williams, who challenged both children and staff to take part in an extreme reading adventure. From reading in peculiar places to curling up with a book in unexpected spots, it was wonderful to see the weird, wonderful, and imaginative locations children and staff chose to immerse themselves in a story. Every class across the school also took part in an immersive storytelling session delivered by Gav from Wonder Arts. His dynamic performance had the children completely captivated and engaged with the magic of storytelling. As always, children embraced the challenge of dressing up as a word, and they certainly didn't disappoint. Adding even more colour and excitement to the day, children arrived in costumes that showcased an impressive range of vocabular. Each outfit was clever, imaginative, and wonderfully creative. A huge thank you to Mrs Williams for organising such a memorable day, and an equally big thank you to our parents and carers for all your creativity behind the scenes and for supporting the children so enthusiastically - we would not be able to hold events like this without your continued support. Your efforts help make days like this truly special for our whole school community.

Today, staff and children took part in a Read Write Inc. Development Day led by Miss Graham alongside a RWI consultant. This has proved to be an excellent CPD opportunity, with a clear focus on strengthening the teaching and development of early reading across the school. Both staff and pupils engaged enthusiastically, and the sessions will no doubt support continued progress in early reading.

Reading with our children is crucial because it fosters literacy skills, builds vocabulary, and strengthens their understanding of language. It also enhances their imagination and development by exposing them to new ideas and stories. Beyond academic benefits, reading together creates bonding moments, promoting emotional connection and a love for learning. It encourages children to develop listening skills, improve concentration, and learn about the world around them. Regular reading also instils a lifelong habit of curiosity and a passion for exploration, which are essential for future success and well-being.

This weekend, please try to snuggle up with a book with your child and enjoy the magic of a shared story.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs McKeon
