

Mrs Madden's Class News
Friday 6th February 2026

This week, the children have been learning about Space! We have been learning the names of the planets and what they are made of; rock, gas or ice. We found out that some planets have lots of moons and some have none at all. It has been lovely to hear that the children have been sharing their knowledge of space at home. Next week we will read the story 'Aliens love Underpants' and take part in activities related to the story.

In Maths, the children have been practising their counting skills. This also worked their fine motor skills to click to cubes together. Next week, we will be working on addition.

I can't believe we have one week left before the half term break. Next week, we will also squeeze in some Pancake Day activities including making and eating them – any allergy issues, please let us know. Have a super weekend and I'll see you on Monday.
