The Vicar writes...

Love in Action: A Valentine's Day Reflection

Every February, shops fill with red hearts, chocolates, and roses, and the world turns its attention to celebrating love. Valentine's Day has become known as a time for romantic gestures, but its origins—and its deeper meaning—reach far beyond cards and candlelit dinners. Long before Valentine's Day was associated with romance, it was linked to St. Valentine, a Christian who lived out love in courageous, self-giving ways. Though details of his life vary, the stories agree on one thing: Valentine was known for his faithfulness, compassion, and sacrifice—qualities that reflect the very heart of Christ's love for us.

A Different Kind of Love

In the church, we talk have spoken of agape—the unconditional, selfless love that God pours out on His people. It is patient and kind, not boastful or proud. This is the kind of love described in 1 Corinthians 13, a passage written to guide the everyday life of the Christian community. Valentine's Day gives us a chance to re-discover that kind of love:

A love that listens before it speaks

A love that forgives even when it is difficult

A love that serves, even in small, unseen ways

A love that reaches out, especially to those who feel lonely or forgotten

Love for the Lonely

For some, Valentine's Day can be bittersweet. It may stir memories of loved ones lost, relationships strained, or hopes unfulfilled. As a church family, we are called to extend Christ's love to those for whom this season is difficult.

A simple phone call, a shared cup of tea, or a handwritten note can remind someone that they are remembered and valued. Sometimes the smallest gestures carry the greatest love.

God's Love: The Greatest Gift

At the heart of Valentine's Day lies an even greater truth: We are loved—deeply, fully, and unconditionally—by God. Romans 8 reminds us that nothing "will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord." This love does not fade like flowers or depend on how worthy we feel. It is constant, steadfast, and freely given.

A Prayer for Valentine's Season

Lord of Love,

As we celebrate this season, help us remember the example of Your Son, who loved without condition and gave without counting the cost.

Make us instruments of Your love in our families, our church, and our community.

Open our eyes to those who need encouragement, and open our hearts to love as You first loved us.

Amen.

Pilgrimages

My monthly missives have now reached the letter K, and there's two K's for the price of one !

When our two daughters became teenagers, like all parents, we became "uncool" (in the terminology of the day). We decided to have one last family holiday together (although we've had lots since) touring Europe by car and staying in economy hotels. The ultimate destination was to be Ottenhofen in Schwarzwald; perhaps more commonly known as the Black Forest.

Brenda's usual meticulous planning charted out an elliptical route through northern Europe, taking in France, Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, and Belgium and so off we set; travelling in the mornings and exploring the different areas in the afternoon.

Soon, we'd reached our destination and settled in at a typical Black Forest house, with its long hipped roof descending almost to the ground, enabling strong winds to pass without structural damage and heavy snowfalls to slide slowly to the ground. (Although how they ever got out through the doors after a snowstorm, I'll never know)

One day it rained and we'd sampled all the local attractions, so we wound our way down the valley to the Katholische Kirche (2 Ks as promised and in English the Catholic Church) as it was the only one open that day that was doing Kaffee und Kuchen Morgen.....a coffee and cake morning, paying in Deutsche Marks back then.

Started in 1823 and finished two years later it follows the traditional style of white exterior and interior walls with a red tiled roof and an imposing bell tower that can be seen for miles around. The altar is laid out quite simply as a grey marble table before a dark brown cross and two long blue thin wall paintings. Two strips of long triple windows on each side add colour and majesty to the tableau. I thought it was very evocative.

The rest of the building is rather plain, and by now, the rain had stopped, and more importantly, the supply of coffee and cakes had run out.

As indeed had our time in the village, and all too soon, we were packing our bags ready for the journey home.....but bolstered by warm memories of that beautiful and traditional village.

Notices

ASH WEDNESDAY marks the start of Lent, a 40-day season of reflection and preparation for Easter. Christians receive a cross of ashes on their forehead as a reminder of our mortality—that we are dust—and our need to turn back to God. It begins a time of repentance, prayer, and renewal as we follow Jesus' example of 40 days in the wilderness.

Ash Wednesday Prayer

*Lord, as we begin this season of Lent,
we come before You in humility and repentance.
Remind us that we are dust, and to dust we shall return.
Create in us clean hearts, renew our spirits,
and guide us as we turn back to You.
May these days draw us closer to Your love,
and prepare us to walk with Christ toward the cross and the hope of Easter.
Amen.*

All Things Duddon

Duddon St. Peter's CE Primary School

After all the excitement of the end of term Christmas activities, the children returned to school in January amidst the snowfall to begin the spring term.

Just before school broke up for Christmas the younger children had a visit to Hayrack Farm, pictured here, where they enjoyed meeting and feeding the animals. They had a great time, despite the cold!

We continue to develop the children's experience of Forest skills, with all age ranges now able to benefit from outdoor activities in our woodland area on a regular basis. Outdoor learning is proven to be a great stimulus, and our lovely environment is ideal to learn about the outdoors with activities linked to the curriculum.

In the autumn term the pond area was a focus for some renovation work, with one of the landing stages replaced so that children will be able to go out pond dipping in the spring. The pond itself was also cleared so that the wildlife will continue to flourish. Our science project with the Royal Society and University of Chester is also developing well.

Please visit our website at www.dstp.cheshire.sch.uk if you would like to read more about our school, where there is also a link to our Ofsted report, or contact the school if you would like to visit and see what it has to offer your child. We have places available across all age groups.

Barbara's bit

February thoughts.

I have a book of poems with a poem for every day of the year, some just a few lines others you need to turn the page. Some more thought provoking than others, some by famous poets but all interesting in their use of language to conjure up different pictures and ideas in my imagination.

I found this one for 4th February which appealed to me as I have been doing a lot of sorting out, so much so that I am greeted by name in one charity shop!

My Locker by Darren Sardelli

My locker's filled with lots of things, like feathers from a falcon's wings, a basketball, a model plane, a whistle from a railroad train, a flower pot a crystal dish, a magazine with sharks and fish, a roller skate, a pack of gum, and cymbals from a drummer's drum.

It also has a boogie board, a watergun, a plastic sword, a handle for an ice cream scoop, a thermos filled with chicken soup, a pogo stick, a purple kite, a lantern with an orange light, a jar of nuts, a garden hose, and tissues for my stuffy nose. Although there's space for screws and hooks, I have no place to put my books!

Who's got a locker like this in school?

I think every home has a drawer like that, apologies if yours is immaculate, mine's in the kitchen! The just I'll - pop - it - in - there drawer because it may could be useful. There's probably one in the garage too, though perhaps my whole garage qualifies.

It's on my list of things to sort! I have been doing a lot of sorting lately from Christmas decorations to clothes so much so that I am greeted by name in a local charity shop! I have also tidied my card papers into colours and I am trying to use them up instead of staring on new blocks and I have stopped saving every tiny scrap of paper - because it might be used - and recycling. I want to travel lightly through this year while I get used to being 'retired.'

Getting rid of stuff helps my headspace though there are still too many worries in there! These I have very determinedly need to give to God, though having said that, 'let go, let God' should be a gentle operation. I need to be gentle with myself!

I hope that you can travel gently through this year, trusting in God to hold and help you as I am trusting in Him to hold and help me.

Love and prayers,

Barbara

TALES FROM THE GRAVEYARD FEBRUARY 2026

2026

As these are the first notes for the New Year, as well as starting work in the first cold and wet weeks of 2026, it is worth reflecting on the two celebrations in the past few weeks.

At the end of 2025, the team were able to close the year with an afternoon tea of warm mince pies and mulled wine courtesy of Penny Rees and Heather Exell. The photo on the left shows the team at the end of December enjoying the feast after an afternoon's work in the graveyard. Thanks to Penny and Heather for this very welcome closure.

Whilst it looks as though the team spend all their time eating and drinking (after a few hours work!), they were also able to celebrate John Plant's 95th birthday on a cold and windy Wednesday in January. Coffee and cakes all round, courtesy of John! (Photo left)

Just to prove a little work is undertaken between celebrations, one issue that emerged last year was overgrown trees by the back gate prevented the "Grab and Shift" wagon from getting in cleanly to empty the soil bund. The photo on the right (courtesy of Linda) shows John and Ron clearing part of the cut growth ready for disposal in the next few weeks.
