

Out of the mysterious past comes this tale of human endurance, full of unknown dangers and terrifying monsters. It tells the adventures of a man who spent ten years fighting the anger of the raging sea as he struggled to sail home.

This is the story of Odysseus of Ithaca, cleverest of all the kings of ancient Greece.

Ladies and gentlemen, poets and scholars of this fine audience. You are here tonight to bear witness to this, the heroic story of Odysseus, greatest of all the Grecian kings. This will be an epic adventure of bloody battles, testing trials and enduring hardship. Through storms of raging fire and under the furious gazes of gods and monsters, Odysseus will attempt his fateful journey home to Ithaca. But will he have what it takes to get there?