

Pear Tree Primary School

Newsletter 17 - 16.01.26

It has been another fantastic week of learning at Pear Tree! From classroom achievements to special activities, our pupils have been working hard and having fun. Our curriculum this week has covered a whole range of skills from learning an instrument to performing Shakespeare - read on to find out more.

Uniform

We have a large amount of donated uniform in school.

If you need any uniform items for your child, please ask at the school office.

We just ask for a small donation to the PTA.

We are also in need of underwear and socks for ages 5 - 7 if you are able to donate some.

Many thanks.

Yellow Class

We started our Dance unit in our PE lessons this week, developing co-operation and collaboration skills in creating a motif. This is inspired by an 'Under the Sea' theme linked to our new Geography topic on Earth Explorers. The children worked creatively to generate ideas and express themselves with confidence, with some performing their choreography.

Green Class

This week, Green Class had their first violin lesson.

They learned how to keep a beat, and learned how to hold their instrument correctly.

They had great fun learning the different notes by plucking the strings.

We look forward to our lessons each Tuesday and hope to apply for our Blue Peter Music badges.

Indigo Class

This week, Indigo took their learning outside as they discovered the ghost of King Hamlet in the forest area.

They followed scripts to focus on the scene in Hamlet where Hamlet meets the ghost of his father out on the castle walls.

The outside elements helped with the drama as we created a soundscape to help set the scene. A soundscape is the collection of all the sounds that exist in a particular environment. Just like a landscape is a visual representation of a place, a soundscape captures the auditory experience of that location. The forest gave us the 'landscape' and Indigo created the soundscape.

Amazing performances, Indigo!
