MEET THE TEACHER

Welcome to Year 6

INTRODUCTIONS

MRS K
FIERRO-HAMMOND

MRS K
PARKER

MRS R KILGALLEN

MRS N Connock

MISS K
WALTERS

OUR VALUES

At Fulfen, we encourage the following values with our children. Through everything we do in school, we aim to create a culture of:

MEET THE TEACHER

• What are the expectations in Year 6?

CURRICULUM

Autumn term:

History & Geography: Victorians, South America

Potential wider curriculum experiences: Packington Farm Team Building

Spring term:

History & Geography: World War II, Biomes & Climate

Potential wider curriculum experiences: Imperial War Museum, Warner Bros Studios

Summer term:

History & Geography: Medicine Through Time, Maps & Grid References

Potential wider curriculum experiences: Residential, Alton Towers reward trip

TIMETABLE

	8:45- 9:00	9:00-10:00	10:00-10:45	1	11:00-12:00	12:00 – 12:30			1:45-2:30	2:30-3:15	3:15- 3:30
Mon	Arithmetic	Maths	Guided Reading	English		Spelling		Story	Art/PE	Art/PE
Tues	Arithmetic	Maths	Guided Reading		English	Grammar		Story	Science	Science	Hymn Practi ce
Wed	Arithmetic	Maths	Guided Reading (use non-fiction text linked to History topic)		English	Handwriting		Story	History		Class Ass
Thurs	Arithmetic	Maths	PSHE		English	Grammar/ Arithmetic/ RfP/ Spelling		Story	DT	Music	Class Ass
Fri	Arithmetic	Maths	MFL	Values Ass	English	Spelling Test		Story	Computing	RE

ENGLISH

Reading for Pleasure. Reading for Pleasure. Frequently choose to read for enjoyment both fiction and non-fiction, confidently discussing what they have ad. Fread a books that are structured in different ways and read for a range of purposes. Fread a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and traditions. Fread a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and traditions. Fread a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and traditions. Fread a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and tentral stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and preferences, giving reasons are my choice. Fread a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures. Fread a range of pootry off by heart. Fread a wide range of poetry off by heart. Fread and a wide range of poetry off by heart. Fread and a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. Fread a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Fread and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. Fread and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. Fread and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. Fread and presentation can one a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eight actions and justifying inferences with evidence. Fread and presents and make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. Fread and present informa	Word Reading	Y6 requently choose to read for enjoyment both fiction and non-fiction, confidently discussing what they have add. read a books that are structured in different ways and read for a range of purposes. read a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction on other cultures and traditions. can recommend authors and genres to others based on my own experiences and preferences, giving reasons or my choice. can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing. can make comparisons within and across books. can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the dience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eiractions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the Xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this apacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact at the reader.	I can read fluently and effortlessly a wide range of age appropriate texts and work out the meaning of unknown words and words from the Year 5/6 spelling pattern list.
read a books that are structured in different ways and read for a range of purposes. read a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and traditions. can recommend authors and genres to others based on my own experiences and preferences, giving reasons or my choice. can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing. can make comparisons within and across books. can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the udience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can amake predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this napacts the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion.	Reading for Pleasure.
read a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction om other cultures and traditions. can recommend authors and genres to others based on my own experiences and preferences, giving reasons or my choice. can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing. can make comparisons within and across books. can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the dience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this appacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I frequently choose to read for enjoyment both fiction and non-fiction, confidently discussing what they have read.
can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the addrence. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, rueture and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this napacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact to the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I read a books that are structured in different ways and read for a range of purposes.
can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing. can make comparisons within and across books. can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the adience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and idependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this nearest the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact to the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I read a range of books, including myths, legends, traditional stories, modern fiction, British fiction and fiction from other cultures and traditions.
can make comparisons within and across books. can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the dience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this npacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can recommend authors and genres to others based on my own experiences and preferences, giving reasons for my choice.
can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart. can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the addience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and idependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eira actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this apacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can identify themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing.
can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the adience. can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and idependently. can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them. Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from reir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this apacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact of the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can make comparisons within and across books.
can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and dependently. Comprehension Can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details last support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this apacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can learn a wide range of poetry off by heart.
Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from leir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this inpacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can adapt and demonstrate the appropriate intonation, tone and volume when reading aloud, to suit the audience.
Comprehension can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this npacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.	I can identify a wide range of themes and conventions across writing and discuss these confidently and independently.
can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from eir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details at support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this inpacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can independently notice links between similar texts and be able to compare and discuss them.
ructure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text. can ask questions about a text. can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from leir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details last support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this macts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	Comprehension can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from heir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details hat support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this nearts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can explore the meaning of words, drawing on contextual evidence and being able to explain how language, structure and presentation can contribute to the meaning of the text.
teir actions and justifying inferences with evidence. can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the xt. can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details tast support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this neats the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can ask questions about a text.
can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details that support the main text. can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this nearly the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can make inferences from a wide range of texts inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions and justifying inferences with evidence.
can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this npacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can make predictions based on details stated and implied, justifying the prediction using evidence from the text.
can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this. can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this npacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can summarise the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, confidently identifying the key details that support the main text.
Can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this inpacts the reader. Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning.
Summarising can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can offer an alternative prediction to my own and explain why others might think this.
can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact in the reader. can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can explore how the author uses language in more than one layer of meaning and explain how this impacts the reader.
can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion. can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	Summarising can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts. can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can discuss and evaluate the authors' use of language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader.
can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others'	I can independently distinguish between statements of fact and opinion.
can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others' leas and challenging views courteously.	I can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction texts.
	I can take part in discussions about books that I have read and that have been read to me, building on others' ideas and challenging views courteously.

I can evaluate my understanding of what I have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic using notes where necessary.

I can independently locate relevant information in a text and summarise main ideas.

I can provide some reasoned justifications for my views.

Leading the way to a brighter future

Love of Learning Encouraging Adaptable, Determine

	Thinking about composition	У
of the reader - for example u	ooses and audiences, selecting language that shows a good awareness sing the first person in a diary or direct address in instructions. I have read as models for my own writing—literary language, e language of speech and writing and choose the correct register.
	the level of formality of my writing— particularly thinking about
• the setting
In narratives describe:	• atmosphere
	• characters
I have used dialogue	• is necessary
effectively and	• conveys character
made sure that it:	advances the action
	Thinking about punctuation
	• inverted commas
	commas for clarity
	• punctuation for parenthesis
	semi-colons between independent clauses
I have shown mostly the	dashes between independent clauses
correct use of:	• colon to introduce a list punctuation used appropriately in all lists
	• colons between independent clauses
	• hyphens for clarity
	I can use punctuation correctly and use it precisely, to enhance meaning and avoid ambiguity.
	Thinking about grammar
I can use the correct tense co	nsistently throughout my writing and across paragraphs—conjunctions, adverbials of time and place,
• -	rammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires mostly racted forms in dialogue, modal verbs.
	ous control over levels of formality, particularly through the Thinking about my spelling
I have spelt most of the word	s from the Year 5/6 spelling list correctly.
I have used a dictionary to ch	eck unfamiliar or ambitious vocabulary.
	Thinking about my presentation
	ed and neat at speed.

ENGLISH

- Spelling at Fulfen we investigate, explore and apply the Year 6 patterns. These patterns will then be constantly referred to in lessons. The children have their Super Spellings in addition to this and, in KS2, these will be shared digitally. Children will no longer be given individual spellings.
- Grammar there are stand alone grammar lessons each week where we teach grammar and key vocabulary pertinent to the year group. These are then applied through each English unit and as many other lessons as possible.

ENGLISH

• Handwriting - this is taught through our scheme 'Letter-join'. Whole-school awards can be achieved when handwriting is applied consistently over time.

• Reading - in KS2 we follow whole class reading guided reading lessons, where the children focus on key domains, linked to the national curriculum. The children will also have many opportunities outside of this to practise their decoding and comprehension skills. Children should be reading for 20 minutes daily, at home and this should be documented in their reading record. A library book will be sent home, along with a class book corner book. As a school, we will now celebrate children's love of reading with reading challenges.

GREATER DEPTH READING

What does this look like?

Why do you think Bella gave the big yellow teddy to the little girl?

I think Bella gave the little girl the big yellow teddy because she liked it.

I think Bella gave the little girl the big yellow teddy so she would give Dogger back.

I think Bella gave the teddy to the girl because she wanted her to have it and not Dogger.

I think Bella gave the big teddy to the little girl because she wanted her to change it for Dogger. Dogger was Dave's most best toy and he couldn't go to sleep. I think the girl liked the teddy because it was big and new and Dogger wasn't.

I think Bella gave the big yellow teddy to the little girl because she wanted to get Dogger back for Dave. She saw the girl looking at the teddy so she knew that she liked it because it was new and big and had a lovely blue ribbon on it. Dogger was an old toy and he didn't look nice like the big teddy, but Dave really, really loved Dogger and he was really, really special for him. More than a new one. Bella was really kind to give the Teddy away. She wanted Dave to be happy again. I would feel sad if I lost my favourite toy.

1

GREATER DEPTH - WRITING

- In Writing, children need to use all of the Year 6 standards effectively; creating specific effects for the reader.
- They will be able to write coherently for different purposes, drawing on their reading for pleasure to inform their independent vocabulary and grammar choices within their writing.
- They will be able to make additions, revisions and proof-reading corrections to their own writing.

MATHS

Power Maths is a whole-class mastery programme created in partnership with White Rose Maths. We use resources from both Power Maths and White Rose to ensure that your child is provided with a tailored approach in their maths lessons.

These resources are used to provide high quality lessons where all pupils are challenged, encouraging passion for maths and an understanding of real world maths.

There are 3 stages to each section of Power Maths:

- Discover. This is a focused, whole class teaching section. If needed, resources or pre-teaching is given to support or develop the children as appropriate. It includes a practical, real life problem.
- Share. The children follow an interactive section, exploring the different methods that can be used to solve a problem. The session develops gradually, from teacher-led, to small group/paired work, to independent work. The openness of the challenge questions helps to check depth of understanding.
- Practise. The children then access practice questions, following small steps of progression to deepen learning. If children are struggling, the class teacher or TA can immediately be there to support them. They develop real understanding because they are able to think about the problem in different ways. There are also opportunities to reflect on their learning and challenge any misconceptions.

TT Rockstars is a fun engaging way for children to learn and build speed with their times tables.

Practising regularly in school and at home will really benefit them.

The program responds to how well your child is doing and adds further challenges the more they improve their rapid recall skills.

By the end of Year 4, children should be fluent in all multiplication tables and related division facts.

HOMEWORK

The children are expected to:

- Use TT Rock Stars to practise their times tables;
- Practise the Letter-join handwriting;
- Learn their Super Spellings and apply these in their writing. The children will be tested at least once per week;
- Read their school reading book (we recommend 20 minutes a night) and complete the quizzes in school. Children should keep their records up-to-date and bring them to school every day.

STATUTORY ASSESSMENTS

END OF KS2 SATS

- SATs week will commence on Monday 13th May
- Children will be tested in their understanding of the Key Stage 2 curriculum. The testing timetable will be as follows:

Day	Test
Monday 13th May	Grammar/Spellings 45 minutes/20 minutes
Tuesday 14th May	Reading 1 hour
Wednesday 15th May	Arithmetic 30 minutes
Thursday 16th May	Reasoning Paper 2 40 minutes

PE will be on a Wednesday for 6FH and Tuesday for 6P

Children's PE kit, in particular footwear, must be suitable for physical activity so please do not send children with impractical 'fashion' trainer-style footwear.

Indoor:

- white t-shirt with Fulfen Logo
- black shorts

Outdoor:

- school hoodies
- navy tracksuit bottoms may be worn in cold weather. trainers

PE kits should be worn to school on their PE days.

In extremely cold weather (and with staff permission), children may bring additional layers, for example under layers, a woolly hat and gloves. The member of staff will give further details about this and may need to ask the children to remove items e.g. gloves if they are deemed to be unsafe for an activity.

SCHOOL UNIFORM

School uniform consists of the following (and should all be labelled):

- white polo shirt or white shirt
- dark blue jumper/cardigan with school logo
- charcoal/grey/black trousers (smart shorts may be worn in warmer weather)
- charcoal/grey/black skirt (blue & white checked dress may be worn in warmer weather)
- grey/white socks
- sensible black school shoes (not boots, footwear with heels, open-toe footwear or trainers)

JEWELLERY & HAIR

- Jewellery should not be worn or brought into school.
- If children have pierced ears, one pair of discreet studs may be worn.
- Earrings must be removed for PE lessons for health and safety reasons. If your child is unable to remove the earrings themselves, they should not wear earrings on their PE days.
- No other body piercings are permitted.
- Long hair must be tied back for PE lessons and when taking part in sports.

• Nail varnish or make up should not be worn.

MEDICATIONS

Please ensure that any medications that your children requires, temporarily or on a long term basis, must be sent in to school via the school office.

These must be clearly labelled with your child's full name and year group/class

SNACKS

- Toast 3op
- Yoghurt 40p
- Crumpet 40p
- Fruit 40p
- Milkshake 70p
- Milk 3op
- Bacon Roll 8op (Tuesdays only)

IPADS

Polite reminder:

Please can children bring their iPads to school every day, fully charged.

IPADS

- iPads need to be in school every day it must be charged
- Children need to be responsible for their iPad
 - o not taking off the case or screen protector
 - telling their teacher if they think the screen protector needs changing (cost of £8 for this)
 - o never leaving their iPad flat on the floor
 - o not allowing younger siblings or pets near it
 - o not share their passcode with anyone else
 - o reporting any faults to the school

if an iPad is not charged or forgotten or is not being looked after properly, then the school reserves the right to keep it in school overnight.

SEESAW

- The 'parent sign in' is for parents on their own personal devices to view their child's digital learning journal and receive messages from the class teacher.
- The children's home learning code is so they can access their account at home (to respond to activities and post in their journal). KS2 children will only need this if they log out accidentally. KS1 children can use this on a home device (e.g. laptop or tablet) to access any homework.

Connect to Seesaw to receive important updates from your child and J Malcolm in 3MB

Your child will post to Seesaw to share their learning with you.

Teachers will also send you messages and reminders.

Seesaw is private. You'll only see posts created by your child or their teacher.

From Your Smartphone

- Download the free Seesaw Family app for iOS or Android
- 2. Choose "Create Family Account"
- Scan this QR code using Seesaw's built-in QR code scanner
- 4. Create your account

From Your Computer

- In a web browser, go to:
- https://app.seesaw.me/s/211-065-116
- 2. Choose your child from the list
- 3. Create your account
- Once you're approved by J Malcolm, you'll get access to Seesaw

Already Have an Account?

If you've used Seesaw before or have more than one child using Seesaw, follow these steps:

- 1. Sign in to your account in Seesaw Family app or on the web at https://app.seesaw.me
- 2. Click on your profile icon, click "+Add Child's Journal" button, then scan the QR code above

ANY QUESTIONS?

