Poems

Hello and welcome to this week's newsletter. This week has once again seen St James' Juniors out and about, representing the school, in amazing places. Our School Ambassadors got to take a once in a life time trip to London, accompanied by Miss Pool and Mr Carruthers, to meet Josh MacAlister MP at the Houses of Parliament and even hold their very own school council meeting within those prestigious walls! They got to 'rub shoulders' with some of our countries highest politicians, view London from the top of the London Eye as well as enjoying an ice cream and some sightseeing. We hope it was an extremely enjoyable experience, and that the impact of our team visiting Parliament leaves a positive and lasting impression of St James' Juniors in the 'Corridors of Power'.

On Thursday a large contingent of the school got to go the 'Cumbria School Games'. This event was organised by Go Activ Cumbria and involved over 1000 primary and secondary age pupils from all across Cumbria coming together to compete in an 'Olympics' style event with sports and activities including golf, dance, dodgeball, orienteering as well as multi-skills challenges such as archery, obstacle courses, trail races, and crossbow. This was a fantastic event and all of the staff enjoyed it as much as the children. Well done to everyone who took part.

This week we have also had some of the Year 6s visiting Bransty School for the second part of the Creating Connections sessions and a group of Year 5 & 6 girls going to a football competition today at Harraby 3G and making it through to the quarter finals – well done again to everyone. Extremely proud of the whole school this week, as even those who haven't been out, have, as always, demonstrated the St James' Way with our 'pupils of the week' also being recognised for progress and hard work in reading, excellent artwork and being fantastic role models. Wishing you all a restful weekend, Mr Beattie
