

Thursday 20th March 2025

L.I. to write a short narrative.

Unexpectedly, from out of nowhere, Tony began to feel he was being followed. "Grandpa Grandpa I think we're being watched," Tony whispered quietly

"I wonder if it's those escaped zoo monkeys," replied Grandpa.

Anxiously but bravely, Tony turned around in the wagon to see what was creeping up behind them.

In amongst the huge, dark trees, Tony could see the shapes of the shadowy monkey.

"I feel scared!" said Tony in a quiet voice.

Tony saw the black, red-eyed monkey getting closer.

"Run!" shouted Tony. The zoo monkeys were chasing them!

Grandpa where are we going? After they had run for so so so long the zoo monkeys were too tired.

Then seconds later they fell into a river filled with green, sharp toothed crocodiles.

They tried really hard to dodge the crocodiles, and finally they got past. For some reason they heard some sort of smooching sound. It was a water fall! They looked back and saw the crocodiles and escape zoo monkeys were getting closer and closer they looked very, very angry the crocodiles were snapping their jaws and the monkeys were beating their chests.

All of them were splashing about in the river. Tony and Grandpa didn't know how to get to their peaceful home.