Dear Prime Minister,

My name is Thomas and I'm a year 3 student at Guston Primary in Dover. I am writing to you to persuade you to do more to help stop deforestation and tell you how to save the world.

Firstly, The Animals Homes get destroyed and beautiful trees are cut down. How would you feel if the trees were gone?

Secondly, the plants die because of people's actions. Plants are important for food and medicine. If these were destroyed, we would have less food and medicine which means if people get sick they cannot feel better and might die. Tribes that live in the rainforest depend on plants for food and if these are gone, tribes will die because they have no food.

In conclusion, we ask people to help plant seeds where there was trees and plants. If deforestation continues we will have no more of the beautiful animals on our planet. Fortunately, there is still time to stop this people destroying our planet. And can you stop the people by asking them if you don't save our beautiful forest. The children of today may not ever see the wonderful water falls in the forest.

If we encourage people to use online newspapers and magazines it means the trees may be saved.

Yours sincerely

Thomas Jordan
