you won't believe me what happens.

Last night some thing weird happened. I woke up to a Present down by my feet. It was a toy gorilla. I was so disoriented. Angrily I threw my doorway and went back to sleep. I woke up and I was frightened because there was a huge gorilla. He said to me don't be frightened. Then we went creep down the stairs. Shall we go to the stairs Zoo and I said "yes". We swung from the trees. I felt a bit nervous and asked him to slow down. ~~but~~ When we got there it was closed and had a high wall. So the we climbed over. ~~but~~ I thought he was looking at me. We saw the chimpanzees. It made me laugh but at the same time I felt a bit nervous because they aren't allowed to be out of their cage.
