LI: To write a diary entry.

Dear ~~Dear~~ Diary, Today was the most shocking, amazing day of my whole life! I won my race at ^{the} Berlin Games.

I've always liked running and but I never knew I would really WIN a race! It's like I'm in a dream...

~~My heart pounding~~ My heart was pounding, getting faster and faster as I crouched down by the starting line.

Then I heard the sound of the starting gun and ran as fast as my legs ^{would} ~~will~~ carry me, feeling free free more than I ever have before. A shiver ran through my body.

"I'm winning!", I thought. My heart is still pounding now, trying to get my head round that this actually happened!

Four gold medals are now ~~mine~~ mine! I need to rest but I'm so elated. It's going to ~~be~~ be hard...

I feel complete ^{that} now I've just competed in the biggest big event of my life....
