Once upon a time a boy named Alix was on his ~~own~~ ~~own~~ own at a museum looking at astronaut's from the past on his birthday. He went home eagerly because he had asked for a school trip to the moon. When he got home he asked his ~~mom~~ ~~mom~~ mum eagerly are we going on a school trip his ~~mom~~ mum replied your going to the moon!!!

As they ~~where~~ were heading to the airport launching pad Alix saw a astronaut sitting up, ready to go to space! ~~!!!~~ Where they got there he rushed to the rocket rite before it launched into space. It took ages to get to the moon but it was defanately worth it.

It had the best view was amazing. They could see every single planet in the solar sistom as they were setting up ~~camp~~ camp he got distracted by the view of the stars.

When we finished we took some time to unpack our books Alix had put global as ~~in~~ much as he shoud have but every body needs to be prepared is what he said to his teacher but she just laughed.

When all the ~~get~~ jobs were done there was a big problem every man cept falling down the stairs but miss handed out get packs to every one so they just slowe out but there...

They heard loud Mm noses and there there was a melior shorer!!! a kid lost his jetpack and fell down grover but Alix could of shore he saw a small green thing come the corner of his eye but then every one fell and it took like something was pulling them down...

But there he saw ~~an~~ an masue astrod coming straight at him but rite at that moment something grabbed his leg and was pulled down rite before the astrod could of hit him.

It was an alien!!! They wated it out all of the people and aliens came out and said good by and they clambered on the kicke and all went home.
