Music

Miss Rafferty

Thoughts about my subject:

I am proud to be the music lead at St Anne's because I firmly believe that music is one of the most powerful tools we have for nurturing children's confidence, creativity, and sense of belonging. Music offers every child the opportunity to express themselves, discover new talents, and experience success.

Through singing, playing instruments, composing, and listening to a diverse range of music, pupils develop not only musical skills but also essential life skills such as teamwork, resilience, and self-discipline. Music encourages children to take risks, find joy in learning, and connect with cultures and stories beyond their own.

When I visit your lessons I would love to see:

You engaged and enthusiastic to participate in music or singing and willing to have a go!

You developing key musical skills such as singing, listening, composing, and performing.

Great work I have seen happening around school:

This term I have loved introducing 'Rock Out' assembly to St Anne's where I get to see the whole school collectively singing and performing, which helps us all to feel happy and a part of something special.
