We firmly believe that outdoor play and learning experiences are as important as the learning opportunities we offer indoors. We encourage the children to work outside in all weathers and we provide suitable waterproof outdoor clothing to enable them to do so.

Using our school field and its surrounding wooded area, we are exploring our natural world in a mindful and conscientious way while experiencing differing conditions and observing seasonal changes. The children will have the opportunity to learn woodcraft skills and use woodworking tools, build dens, climb trees and even light a fire! There are also lots of opportunities for team building and co-operative work.

We have found the programme to be of huge benefit to the children, not only increasing their environmental awareness and understanding of the natural world, but also improving their personal and social skills.

Please remember to send your children in with wellies (boots) for their forest school Monday.
