6TH NOVEMBER

WELCOME

At school we are enjoying the calm before the 'lead up to Christmas' storm - as we all focus on our classroom learning. This includes the launch of our new initiative Talk Tuesday - which you are all invited to participate in with a new 'Question of the Week' feature! Details of this together with a new musician of the month, details of free AI workshops and SEND sport events are all included below, together with the usual updates and reminders.

'TALK TUESDAY'

As part of our ongoing commitment to strengthening children's Oracy across the curriculum, this week saw the school-wide launch of 'Talk Tuesday'. This is a dedicated time to focus on communication goals, using debate to develop skills such as turn-taking and using structured sentence stems. Everyone made a fantastic start, with teachers sharing really wonderful feedback about the levels of engagement and thoughtful discussions taking place in every classroom.

Parents/carers don't worry you can also get involved as each week the newsletter will include a 'Question of the Week' for everyone to discuss together at home - see below to get the debate started.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

If you found a tiny door in a tree, what do you think might be hiding behind it?

Feel free to discuss whilst impersontating Harry Hill

TINKLING THE IVORIES

This week Y3 & Y5 took part in a electronic keyboard workshop. They had great fun making and creating music - which we know they will tell you all about. Watch this space as we hope to be running an ongoing keyboard club soon for any budding Rik Wakemans or Lady Gagas!

GOOD AS NEW

St Peters in Hale are running a Good as New sale of baby and children items on Sat 21st Nov. Running between 10-12 noon with a £2 entry fee it may be ideal place to pick up a bouncer or bassinet! All proceeds will be split between the Manchester Trust Foundation and the Church's roof fund.

NEW - MUSICIAN OF THE MONTH

This month we are celebrating the work of Myles Smith. Born June 3 1998, in the musical mecca that is Luton. Young Myles taught him himself to play the guitar and piano, and by age 12, was already singing and playing at local open-mic nights. When he was growing up, Myles' mum had a fun rule: he and his elder brother and sister were not allowed to use the same word twice in a single sentence! To help them out with this they kept dictionaries and thesauruses in their room to learn new words. Myles believes this helped him become a great songwriter - we also think he would be a brilliant participant in Talk Tuesday.
