

NURSERY NEWSLETTER

SEPTEMBER 2025

Hello everyone,

A big warm welcome to you all as we begin this exciting new school year in Nursery! It's been such a lovely start to the term, and we've been so impressed with how well the children have settled in already. They've been busy exploring, playing, making new friends, and getting used to new routines – we're very proud of them!

Thank you so much for your patience while we've been getting Seesaw up and running. It's now ready to go, and we'll be using it regularly to share snapshots of your children learning through play. It's such a wonderful way for you to get a little glimpse into their day! You can also use Seesaw to message me directly – please don't hesitate to get in touch if you ever need anything at all.

Our Topic

This half term our topic is called 'This is Me', which is a whole school focus. In Nursery, we'll be looking closely at ourselves and our families. We'll be talking about our hobbies, interests, likes and dislikes, and helping the children to recognise and understand different feelings. We've been reading the lovely story 'This is Me' by George Webster, and we'll be doing lots of fun activities inspired by the book over the next few weeks.

Snack

If your child brings their own snack to Nursery, please could we ask that you hand it to the staff at the door in the morning (they will have a box ready) and pop their name on it if you can. It will really help us to stay organised at snack time.

If your child is having the Nursery snack, you don't need to do anything – we'll give that out as usual. Thank you 😊

We're really looking forward to the term ahead and all the learning, playing, and exploring still to come!
