Curriculum Week

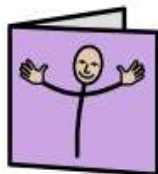

When we return after the half term break children will engage in a curriculum week 'Uniquely Me' - an opportunity to celebrate the richness of our diverse school community and we would love parents to be part of this. Speak to your child's teacher to find out how you can get involved.

Author Event

This week as part of our Believe, Achieve, Succeed initiative, our Y6 pupils met award winning poet Matt Goodfellow. The children listened to extracts from Matt's bestselling lyrical novel 'The Final Year', a brilliant book about a boy's journey through Year 6.

Upper Key Stage Two

Jet & Zircon

This week Jet and Zircon have been revisiting learning from this half term to really help consolidate our knowledge. It has been great applying our knowledge in both English and Maths and seeing the progress that we have made.

We would like to invite parents to join us on Thursday 6th November from 13:30 to take part in an art activity with your child where they will be designing a family crest.

Aquamarine & Onyx

This week, Year 6 thoroughly enjoyed learning about Hinduism, with a particular focus on the concepts of reincarnation and Puja. The students explored how Hindus believe in the cycle of birth, death and rebirth, and how this belief influences their daily lives and spiritual practices.

We warmly invite you to join us for a special Art lesson on Thursday 6th November (afternoon), where we'll be celebrating the uniqueness of each student by designing a family crest.
