School Readiness...

Whilst it is important to consider the skills your child needs to be school ready, it is important to remember that every child develops at their own pace.

Children with additional needs may take a little longer to master some of the following skills, which is fine, as we will support them when they are ready ☺ Please do not worry.

Let's find out some of the things that will help the children settle in well.

BEING 'SCHOOL READY' MEANS...

Using cutlery

BEING
'SCHOOL READY'
MEANS...
Sharing toys

BEING 'SCHOOL READY' MEANS...

Drawing and painting

BEING 'SCHOOL READY' MEANS...

Being fully toilet trained

Using the bathroom

Your child will need to know how to go to the toilet independently including how to wipe themselves.

We go to the toilet with them until they are ready to go alone but we can't wipe them.

Top tip: make sure their uniform is loose enough for them to pull down/up.

Label everything!

Losing or mixing up belongings happens a lot in schools, so label everything. This will help avoid confusion and keep the school's lost property box nice and empty

What is inside your pack?

Learning to use the Toilet

How will I know my child is ready to start learning about using the toilet?

- Once your child begins to show they are recognising their bodily functions and are interested in the learning process. This is usually from around [illegible] up to two or three years as every child [illegible] and readiness is individual.
