Topic homework Y6 Autumn 2

Here is a range of optional homework linked to your topic for Autumn 2. If you choose to complete these we would love to see them either by email with photographs admin@lakeside.doncaster.sch.uk or by bringing them into school once they are complete.

World War Two timeline World War Two lasted for six years and there were a huge number of important events during the war. Create your own timeline of the war. This website will be really useful: https://kidadl.com/articles/ww2-timeline-ks2	The leaders of World War Two Both sides of the war (the Allies and the Axis powers) had charismatic leaders who inspired their people to follow them. Winston Churchill and Hitler are best known leaders but there were many other powerful leaders involved on both sides in the war. Create a poster or report giving useful information on all of them.
The food of World War Two During the war, many everyday foods were very difficult to find and people had to make do with both less food and very different food to what they were used to eating.  Research World War Two recipes and create your own meal using one of them.	Propaganda posters Both sides in the war made regular use of propaganda posters to encourage their people to behave as they wanted them to and to believe what they wanted them to. They were an extremely important part of the war effort, particularly in Britain where there was a great shortage of many of the things essential to everyday life. Create your own propaganda poster on a subject of your choice. The following website contains lots of posters for inspiration! https://cdn.nationalarchives.gov.uk /documents/education/propaganda.pdf
Life during the Blitz The Blitz was a terrifying time for the people of London who were bombed for many months. Many people died, huge areas of the city were destroyed and many, many people were made homeless. Write a diary entry imagining you lived through the Blitz.	Winston Churchill Even today, Winston Churchill is hugely famous in Britain and still a beloved figure. He lived a fascinating life and influenced millions of people, both during and after the war. Research his life and create a slideshow about his life. You could use PowerPoint, Google Slides of Prezi to create your report.
