"Guided by the light of Christ, we grow, learn and shine together."

Friday,13th November 2026

It has been another lovely week at Corpus Christi, and we have certainly felt the chill of winter as the temperatures have started to drop!

On Wednesday, we gathered in the school hall to observe a two-minute silence to mark Remembrance Day. The children showed wonderful respect and reflection as we took time to remember and pay our respects to those who have served and sacrificed so much for others.

It was wonderful to welcome so may of you into school for our Parents' Evening this week. A huge thank you to everyone who attended and engaged so positively in discussions about their child's learning and progress. Working together is so important, and we really value your continued support.

Today, Year 1 enjoyed a very special treat as they celebrated winning our Attendance Award for the last half term! The children came to school in their pyjamas, bringing along their favourite teddy and book for a lovely day of celebrations. Well done, Year 1! Keep an eye out for some exciting new attendance initiatives that we will be introducing over the coming weeks and months.

Next week, we will be marking Anti-Bullying Week, with a focus on promoting positive relationships, kindness and looking after ourselves and one another. We will kick things off with our Odd Socks Day, celebrating what makes each of us unique, followed by a range of activities throughout the week to raise awareness and reinforce these important messages.

We are also very excited to be taking part in the Into Film Festival, with our whole school trip to Cineworld! This promises to be a fantastic experience for the children and something we are all really looking forward to.

Have a lovely weekend, everyone!
