British Values

This week we recapped our learning about the British Values which are five values that are important to people living in the UK today. Schools teach children about the British Values to help young people feel ready for life after leaving school. We thought about the meaning of each British Value and how they play a role in our daily lives at school and at home.

Be a Fundraiser

On Monday 10th November, we will be celebrating 'Odd Socks Day' in school to show that it's okay to be different and to stand up against bullying and discrimination. It is seen as a symbolic gesture to embrace individuality and to support others in doing the same.

Please can all children come to school wearing odd socks with their school uniform.
