BLUE Zone

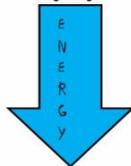

This week we have been learning all about the Blue Zone. We explored different low-energy emotions—such as tiredness, sadness and boredom—and talked about how they can affect our bodies and behaviour. The children have been practising a range of helpful strategies, including gentle movement, drinking water, taking brain breaks and using positive self-talk, to help them feel more alert, engaged and ready to learn.

The Blue Zone

We are expected to be in the Blue Zone just before bedtime or when we are watching the TV. We are running slow! We might be tired or sad. This is an unexpected zone to be in for learning.

How does my body feel?

Young Voices

On Friday, our Young Voices choir took to the stage at Co-op Live for an unforgettable performance. The children sang with huge enthusiasm and confidence, filling the arena with their amazing voices and incredible energy. They were part of a spectacular show alongside thousands of other young singers, creating a truly electric atmosphere. It was a proud moment for everyone involved, and the children represented our school brilliantly with their teamwork, commitment and joy for music. What a night to remember!
