

Geraldine Glendon

Both my 2 daughters Amy and Katie went to St Josephs in the 1990's and my 2 grandchildren currently attend the school, which provides a link to the local catholic community which helps support the children's belief journey. I am retired and have the time availability needed to carry out this role.

I previously worked for United Utilities as a customer engagement manager providing customer/engagement support to a multi-million pound investment programme.

Engagement/communications was provided both internally and externally. In my last year I submitted and won an external award run by the Water Industry Achievement Award for engagement. Dealing with the many districts throughout the northwest and their local needs whilst ensuring individual families have the necessary care to continue their daily lives during interruptions by the works being carried out has provided me with the empathy and understanding of different family dynamics.

I have also run a number of small successful businesses in the local area proving my ability to manage finances, staff and issues/complaints whilst understanding the need and necessary to comply with local authority processes and procedures.

If successful I look forward to helping support the St Joseph's (Joeys) team in encouraging the pupils and staff at the school to meet their collective and individual achievements / standards.
