

Autumn 2 Class News Y5

Key information for parents and carers

Date: Monday 13th October 2025

This half term's learning is all about the geography of the Alps. We will be learning about the Alp's location, it's physical and human features, and tourism.

English

During this half term we will continue to develop our reading skills by focusing on our retrieval and inference skills during our whole class guided reading sessions. Within English lessons we will continue to improve our writing, developing our knowledge of different grammatical skills to make our work really interesting. We will apply these skills to help us to write a persuasive travel diary to persuade Mrs Wright to take her next summer holiday in the Alps. We will also revisit the skills we used in writing information pieces to inform readers about the Alps.
