1. Introduction

The Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 18) requires organisations who process personal data to meet certain legal obligations. As part of our statutory and corporate functions, Great Moor Infant School processes special category data and criminal and conviction data in accordance with the requirements of Article 9 and 10 of the UK General Data Protection Regulation ('UK GDPR') and Schedule 1 of the DPA 18.

The School is committed to making sure that it is transparent about the ways in which we use personal information, and that we have the right controls in place to make sure it's used responsibly and is kept safe.

This document explains our processing and satisfies the requirements of Schedule 1, Part 4 of the DPA 18 which requires the School to have an appropriate policy document in place for the processing of special category and criminal offence data under certain specified conditions that sets out the safeguards that the School has put in place and explaining our procedures for securing compliance with the principles in Article 5 of the UK GDPR and policies regarding the retention and erasure of such personal data.

We process special category personal data in other instances where it is not a requirement to keep an appropriate policy document. Our processing of such data respects the rights and interests of the data subjects, and we provide clear and transparent information about why we process personal data including our lawful basis for processing in our privacy notice.

Within the UK GDPR, all processing of special category data must meet an Article 9(2) condition in order for that processing to be lawful. As part of the School's statutory and corporate functions and duties, we process special category and criminal offence data under the following paragraphs of Article 9 of the UK GDPR:

- Article 9(2)(a) (the data subject has given explicit consent to the processing of those personal data for one or more specified purposes)

6. Conditions for processing

Section 10 of the DPA 18 provides that processing under Articles 9(2)(b), (h), (i) or (j) is only permitted by UK law if it meets a condition in Part 1 of Schedule 1. The conditions that the School relies on are;

These conditions must have a basis in law which shall be proportionate to the aim pursued, respect the essence of the right to data protection and provide suitable and specific measures to safeguard the fundamental rights and the interests of the data subject.

The School processes special category data under the following Substantial Public Interest Conditions and the conditions that the School relies on are;

For example:

 - Assisting elected representatives such as local Councillors and Members of Parliament with requests for assistance on behalf of their constituents.

These conditions apply to the School's statutory and corporate functions. All processing is for the first listed purpose and might also be for others, depending on the context.

8. Criminal Offence and Conviction Data

Criminal offence data is personal data that's treated in a similarly sensitive way to special category data. It records criminal convictions and offences or related security measures. Criminal offence data includes:

- the alleged committing of an offence
- the legal proceedings for an offence that was committed or alleged to have been committed, including sentencing.

The School processes criminal offence data in storing the outcome of a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check on their employees and, non-employed staff and volunteers. As this data relates to criminal convictions, collecting and retaining it means the School is processing criminal offence data. This applies even though the check has not revealed any conviction.

The School may process personal data relating to criminal convictions in connection with its statutory public function or as part of recruitment and employment checks to safeguard and protect pupils and the wider community against dishonesty.

Article 10 of the UK GDPR permits processing of personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences under the control of official authority. It follows that School may process criminal offence data under Article 10 of the UK GDPR when it is exercising official authority that enables it to do so.

When processing is for the School's statutory functions within the meaning set out in Section 8 of the DPA 2018, Lawfulness of processing: public interest etc. (including corporate functions), the School must meet one of the conditions in Schedule 1 of the DPA 2018 with the exception of Paragraph 8 which is only applicable to special category data.

The School may further process criminal offence data when the additional processing conditions relating to criminal offence data are met under Part 3 of Schedule 1 of the DPA 2018. Those conditions are;

- Paragraph 29 which permits processing of personal data relating to criminal convictions etc. if the data subject has given his or her consent.
- Paragraph 30 which permits processing of personal data relating to criminal convictions etc. where necessary to protect an individual's vital interests and if the data subject is physically or legally incapable of giving consent.
- Paragraph 32 which permits processing of personal data relating to criminal convictions etc. of personal data that has been put in the public domain by the data subject.
- Paragraph 33 which permits processing of personal data relating to criminal convictions etc. necessary for the purpose of legal proceedings; obtaining legal advice; or establishing, exercising, or defending legal rights.

- Paragraph 36 - Since there is no requirement for processing under Article 10 of the UK GDPR to be in the substantial public interest, paragraph 36(1) disapplies this express requirement where it exists in Part 2 for the purposes of processing criminal and conviction data.
- Paragraph 37 - Extension of insurance conditions Paragraph 37 extends paragraph 20 of Schedule 1 so that the processing of criminal and conviction data is permitted for an insurance purpose, because paragraph 20 only permits the processing of specified special categories of data, this provision is needed to ensure that criminal and conviction data can be processed.
