Banks Road is the best school I could have chosen for Arthur. He is truly happy there and has excellent learning and academic progress. Every bit of support I have ever needed from Banks Road has always been provided with care and efficiency. The school also offers a wonderful range of extra activities and after-school clubs, such as tennis, music, cross country, chess, and many others. Arthur has had the opportunity to make friends, to travel, and to grow in many ways. I highly recommend Banks Road. The teachers are extremely qualified, dedicated, and genuinely committed to the children's well-being and development.

Keep up the good works Banksroad

Lily is generally very happy at Banks Road. It seems she is connected well with majority of teachers and other adults at the school. She can approach her class teacher anytime and her teacher will listen to Lily. As a parent I feel Banks Road does as much as possible can. We have no concerns at all and very happy, it is quite clear that most of teachers actually like their jobs regardless of challenges education faces. Only thing we would like to have a bit more personalised is the feedback, probably we are the very few parents who prefer a honest feedback about our daughter's work whether is positive or negative ( this could be challenging to apply all across and not necessarily would be appropriate for the whole school and for every parent), but I feel that educators can have an accurate opinion about our children's strengths and weaknesses and should be able to bring this to parents attention. Highlighting even minor weaknesses could enable parents to support the school by focusing on these areas at an early stage reducing challenges further down.

Banks road seems to be getting better and better and im so proud that my maddison gets to be part of it .

this is an important year for her and i am worried that the naughty kids are going to ruin year 6 for her. i am shocked when she comes home and tells me some of the things that some of the bad kids do when she is trying to learn. the teachers have lots of patience

My daughter loved the school, and so did I. The teachers' approach was excellent. I hope they will pay more attention to improving my daughter's language skills, as her English is still weak since it's not her native language. Thank you, it's a wonderful school.

Teachers are very approachable, easy to talk to always polite, respectful, friendly and committed

My child is very happy at banks road school. Every morning he can't wait to go to school to see his friends and to do maths.

Great school

I'm so happy that I chose banks road for nova, all the teachers I've met have been lovely and I love that the teachers know every child by name there is just a lovely vibe about banks road. Nova really enjoys school and is doing really well with her learning and that is down to the environment in which she is in. Thank you

Feel like they have my childs best interests, the difference i am noticing in him since being there

Nothing except positive things about the school. The leadership team are fair and consistent. When I have raised issues they have been dealt with fairly. My child is no angel but is always treated fairly. Can't fault them. Its a shame that the vocal minority of parents seem to take up all the time of the school complaining. Keep doing a great job everybody

We love Banks Road. Julia is absolutely flourishing! She is engaged, motivated, confident and is making a wonderful progress.

Any issues my daughter has had at Banks Road have been dealt with swiftly, gently and with respect to all involved.

My daughter struggles with change, she's suspected ADHD but her teacher has welcomed her into her class and made my daughter feel like belongs. I am so glad I chose Banks Road as my daughters first and only option, her teacher communicates so well with me even if it's the most random question I ask her via the app she always communicates professionally and puts me at ease. My daughter enjoys going to school of a morning.

I HAVE NOTHING BUT PRAYSE FOR THE SCHOOL AND THE STAFF BUT I AM WORRIED. MY SON IS CONSTANTLY SAYIN THAT HIS FRIENDS ARE LOUD AND RUDE IN SCHOOOL. I DONT RAYS MY SON LIKE THAT AND DONT WANT HIM TO LEATN TO BE RUDE LIKE SOME OF THE KIDS IN HIS CLASS. SOME PARENST NEEDS TO GET A GRIP OF THERE KIDS. BEAVIOUR IS SHOCKINN

Banks road is a great primary school my child has progressed so much since joining this school the teachers always have the childrens best interests at heart and they are there to talk to no matter what my child loves this school she comes home looking forward to going back in the next day thank you

Accepting, community, friendly.

Banks Road is an amazing learning environment for children to study and thrive. We're happy to have Banks Road Primary School in our neighbourhood. Both our children settled really well at school from the very first days thanks to dedicated, proactive and enthusiastic staff with „we can do it“ approach. Thank you!

Teachers and staff go above and beyond for both my children,

I would have recommended banks road in the past as they had staff that understood children with sen, unfortunately there's only two members of staff that seem to understand my child now, instead of understanding and being patient with my child they tend to punish my child for things other kids have caused him to do, apart from this there's a good standard of education

Our son joined banks road late, he joined in year 5 and if we could turn back time we would have put him in banks road sooner. Banks road is an amazing school, has amazing staff and our son has done nothing but flourish since he joined this school. Any issues we have had staff has always been amazing and helpful and always dealt with it well enough to keep us satisfied. We love this school and are gutted we had to relocate areas because our youngest and new baby due in 2026 would have been coming to this school no hesitation. Amazing school thank you for making not just us as parents, but our son feel so at ease and comfortable with your school.

Very happy with everything Banks Road do to support the children with learning and other activities.

Very supportive and great encouragement to children to feel safe and secure. Truly care about children and their wellbeing.

Fantastic school that puts children at the heart of everything.

I strongly believe most of the staff banks road genuinely care for the children and have tried there best for the children, however senior staff would rather bury there head in the sand and ignore genuine safeguarding concerns as it's too convoluted. Also the school allows bullying under the 'the child (bully) has additional needs' making it accessible for the bullying to continue. Banks road has declined in its dealing with situations for over the past few years.
