At William Stockton, reading is a huge priority, and we absolutely love to read! We are excited to announce that our school book fair is arriving next week, open to both parents and children on Tuesday, 3rd March at the end of the school day. This wonderful event coincides perfectly with World Book Day on Thursday, 5th March. We invite everyone to come to school dressed as your favourite character or ready for a bedtime story, as we celebrate our love for reading together. Throughout World Book Day, we will also be hosting fun activities linked to reading across the school. Additionally, children will be bringing home a World Book Day voucher on Monday, which gives you money off books when you purchase one. Don't miss out on this fantastic opportunity to encourage your child's love for reading!

What a fabulous first week back! It's been so lovely to have the children back in school, filling our halls with laughter and enthusiasm. This week, our Director of Education visited us and commented on the lovely, bustling learning atmosphere in school! It was wonderful to hear her feedback, which truly cemented what we already know about our school – that it is a vibrant community where every child thrives. We are excited for the term ahead and look forward to sharing more of our adventures with you!

How lovely to see so many of our children make use of the free swimming for Y4,5,6 at the Brio leisure centre over half term. We are committed to supporting every child being able to swim by the end of key stage 2. Please look out for more of these opportunities during the school holidays.
